Art Exhibit in Celebration of Martin Luther King Jr. January 2023

Every year the Laconia Human Relations Committee (LHRC) holds a celebration of Dr. King on the day before his annual birthday celebration. His life is a rich tapestry that still overlays our society including non-violent protests and eloquent speeches (“I have a dream”, etc.). His was an iconic life of struggle with desegregation, unionization, housing, antiwar and poverty in America.

This year the Human Relations Committee, with the help of the Belknap Mill and Elaine Morrison, are planning a special celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. which will be expressed through display of art. There will be a month-long exhibit in the Mill’s Riverside Gallery. In addition, there will be an afternoon on Sunday, January 15th when selected artists will have an opportunity to talk about their pieces.

- Theme: The life and/or work of Martin Luther King Jr.
- Required: Artist statement about how their piece reflects some aspect or inspiration of the life and/or work of Dr. King.
- Originality: Your submission must be your original work. The work must be suitable for hanging.. framed preferably. However, if the cost of preparation for the show is an issue we will find a way to help you defray the cost.
- A statement of intent and short artist bio must be received by December 1st including medium proposed as well as overall size. Each proposal will be reviewed and acted upon as soon as they are received so don’t wait.
- Inclusion of the work is not guaranteed and is at the sole discretion of the exhibitors.
- If you receive the go-ahead based on your statement of intent, your work must be received by December 26th.
- The show will run from January 2nd through January 30th in the Riverside Room.
- The Art Exhibit is open to artists of all ages who reside or work in Laconia including students.
