M, Schulz noted that some states are very strict about cleaning boats. The other work shop D. Williams went to was on the climate change and how that is effecting the loons.

4.III. Lake Smart

D. Williams said a new program been developed from some new grants that are available to home owners where they will receive a certificate if they have the criteria: driveway and parking, structures and septic, yard recreation and foot paths and water access. If criteria is met, a placard would be shown in the yard. D. Anson noted it's just for waterfront properties.

D. Anson went to cyanobacteria workshop and suggested that it be looked with the milfoil. It is a greenish material in the water or on the surface.

4.IV. Stormwater Regulation

Planning Director D. Trefethen noted discussion have been in process between Planning and DPW. There was a draft that was done a while ago and D. Anson asked if that was still good. #### 5.I. Lake Hosting Training For Volunteers And Sign Up For Volunteering

The commission will start the meeting at the Messer Street ramp, June 19 at 5:30 pm and end at city hall.

5.II. Perley Pond Update

Planning Director D. Trefethen stated the family that donated the parcel is not happy with how the parcel is being maintained. There was a meeting with Parks, City Manager Scott Myers and Rist Frost Shumway (RFS) and the family. Runoff from the street has run into the pond and is the primary responsibility for the brush at the water's edge and it was asked if just the first section of the shore line could be dredged and RFS said it is not in the 250 ft shoreland but would still require a DES permit. The family has reached out to DES on what they could do. The permit will be pursued eventhough DES didn't have much to say. There were concerns from the commission and Planning Director D. Trefethen will relay the concerns. An arborist would need to do some major pruning which will leave the tree very different.

M. Foote would like to have an overlay on the GPS for easements and where the water testing and deep water testing is, as well as boundaries of protected areas.

There is now another porto potty on Messer Street.
