Local projects to receive 'Moose Plate' grants

Nov 26, 2020

CONCORD (AP) — The New Hampshire State Conservation Committee has awarded nearly $432,000 in grants from its “Moose Plate” program to 21 projects to protect, restore, and enhance the state’s natural resources.

The grants fund a range of projects, such as trail, bridge, and pond improvements.

The Belknap County Conservation District was awarded $15,552 for the restoration of Hurd Brook and Alton Culvert Assessment in the Town of Alton.
