Benefits of Attending

Some of the many benefits realized by individuals who attend a REID® training program include learning a time tested process that is in compliance with the guidelines established by the courts that respects the rights and dignity of the individual that is flexible, adaptable and versatile so as to meet the challenges of an ever changing environment that will increase your ability to successfully resolve a wide variety of investigations that will enhance your ability to eliminate the truthful and identify the deceptive individual that has built in safeguards to protect the integrity of the confession that will significantly enhance your interviewing and interrogation skills

Individuals who attend a REID® training course will learn how to assess the credibility of the information provided by a victim, witness or subject during the investigative interview structure the investigative interview solicit the subject's story, version of events, or explanation of what happened by using open-ended questions determine the appropriate follow-up questions properly phrase the investigative questions use behavior provoking questions during the interview use persuasion techniques to learn the truth from the deceptive individual to determine the best persuasion approach to use as based on subject insights developed during the interview evaluate and implement from a variety of approaches the most effective as determined by the individual and case characteristics

From recent participants:

"Just a little info - I have 37 years law enforcement experience...retired Chief from Burnsville MN. I also served as an Assistant Commissioner at the MN Department of Public Safety for 3.5 years. My feedback would be..."Whether you are a 2 year frontline officer, or seasoned veteran of 20+ years, the skills and techniques that you acquire through the John E. Reid Courses are priceless. I used them through my entire 37 year career!"

Bob Hawkins

Continuing Education Coordinator

Minnesota Board of Peace Officer Standards and Training

At every course we typically hear such comments as:

"I wish I had this course a few months ago..."

"I can't wait to get back and try these techniques"

"This is so much more in depth than any interview training I have been to"
