The Laconia Police Department was recently awarded the Tom Fox Prevention Scholarship at the New Futures Annual Meeting.

This scholarship is intended to provide professional development and leadership training opportunities for the department. The Tom Fox Prevention Scholarship is given to an individual or group that has demonstrated leadership and significant service to the delivery of preventing drug and alcohol problems.

Welcome to Laconia Links a weekly email newsletter update devoted to keeping you informed of City of Laconia department news, City projects, useful links, activities and events!

Look for a new edition of the newsletter each Friday. If you have already signed up to be on our distribution list to receive your newsletter by e-mail, thank you for your interest! If you would like to be added to our e-mail list (or to unsubscribe), please click here.

As always, we welcome your ideas and comments as to what you would like to see included in future issues. Just give us a call in the City Manager's office at 527-1270, or contact us by e-mail at info@city.laconia.nh.us

We look forward to keeping you up to date on our beautiful City!

The Laconia Police Department was selected for this scholarship due to their efforts to creatively address drug problems in Laconia. In September 2014, with the support of the City Council, an innovative Prevention Enforcement Treatment program was developed. Officer Eric Adams' (PET Coordinator) job is to coordinate the efforts of police with local drug abuse counselors, the hospital's emergency room, the court systems, the corrections department, and other programs. The Laconia Police Department has adopted a balanced approach to addressing the substance misuse crisis within our City, and treats substance misuse as a disease, not a law enforcement issue.

Elm Street School

On Thursday, October 8th, the students at Elm Street School celebrated our first “PAWS Pride Day” since the unveiling of PBIS on the first day of school. All students were given a new ESS t-shirt to wear on this special day and teachers were challenged to participate in a PAWS Pride Photo contest.

All classrooms participated by taking a creative picture of their class showing PAWS Pride. Since we unrolled PBIS out in the fall of this year, our behavior referrals have dropped 50% compared to last year at this time. Students are learning the expected behaviors in our school as we continue to support them through the use of positive behavior interventions. The staff will be presenting to the school board next month on November 3rd focusing on PBIS at Elm Street School. A special thank you to McKenzie Harrington-Bacote, our Safe Schools/Healthy Students Program Administrator, and Maureen Tracey for supporting us by facilitating the purchase of our school banners and posters, t-shirts, wristbands, bookmarks, lanyards, etc. We are so very grateful for all of their continued support.

Laconia High School

Congratulations to the following students on being selected to represent Laconia High School on Thursday, November 5th at Plymouth State University for the All New England Choral Festival. These students were selected from the many chorus students in the New England area. They will rehearse during the day under the guidance of a guest conductor. That evening, family and friends will be invited to attend a concert in the Hanaway Theatre at 7pm. Tickets can be purchased through the PSU Box Office. Congratulations again to these students!! Maddie Sandifer on soprano voice, Emily Huckins on soprano voice, Amanda Brunt on alto voice and Tim Maczko on tenor voice.

Chaucer's Prologue to "The Canterbury Tales"

In a society based on class structure, Geoffrey Chaucer lived between the lines. Although not of noble blood, Chaucer married well. His sister-in-law was the mistress and later the wife of John of Gaunt, the 1st Duke of Lancaster.

Phyllis Benoit, retired teacher and mediator, will take attendees on this risqué pilgrimage through the middle ages with the good, the bad and the ugly, Wednesday, Oct. 21 at 3 p.m. at Taylor Community's Woodside Building. The event is free, but seating is limited. Please RSVP to 524-5600, by noon Oct. 21.

The class is part of the Fall Curriculum at Osher Life-Long Learning (OLLI) at Granite State College. Copies of the reading will be given to all participants.

A Medication Collection and Disposal Box is located in the lobby of the Laconia Police Department for your convenience in disposing of old or unused prescription drugs in a safe manner. Open 24 hrs/day, 7 days/wk. The collection box is accessible 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week!

Laconia Fire Department

Link to Fire
Dept.'s
Website here

Last week was Fire Prevention Week. It is the week to focus on fire safety and how to prevent fires. Fire Prevention Week was established to commemorate the Great Chicago Fire, the tragic 1871 conflagration that killed more than 250 people, left 100,000 homeless, destroyed more than 17,400 structures and burned more than 2,000 acres. The fire began on October 8, but continued into and did most of its damage on October 9, 1871.

While the Great Chicago Fire was the best-known blaze to start during this fiery two-day stretch, it wasn't the biggest. That distinction goes to the Peshtigo Fire, the most devastating forest fire in American history. The fire, which also occurred on October 8th, 1871, roared through Northeast Wisconsin, burning down 16 towns, killing 1,152 people, and scorching 1.2 million acres before it ended. The story of that blaze did not make national headlines. It was overshadowed by the destruction of Chicago.

Almost every community can face major fires. In 1903 Laconia suffered a conflagration in Lakeport when over 100 homes, two factories, two churches, the fire station, and the power plant were destroyed by fire. 500 people were left homeless. Another major fire destroyed most of Lakeside Avenue in 1924.

Over the years the fire service has learned far too many lessons from disasters. We have changed building and fire codes based on the experiences of the community. We have done a great job in reducing the number of fires but the threat still remains. Fires in homes are still a major concern. More than 70% of all fire deaths occur in homes. We need to stay focused on fire safety in homes. This year's theme is "Hear the beep where you sleep". Over the years the fire service has preached to keep your bedroom doors closed at night. The closed door can provide a good barrier to fire and smoke. The problem is that smoke alarms are on the other side of the bedroom doors. What if the fire starts in the bedroom? There will be a delay in smoke activating the alarm. So the simple solution is to place smoke alarms in every bedroom. And at least one on very level of your home.

Today you can buy a smoke alarm with a ten-year battery. You install it and then in ten years throw it away and purchase a new device. Smoke alarms are like any electrical component - they wear out or lose their effectiveness.

Fall Programs

at Prescott Farm

The last of the migrant birds are leaving. Mammals that don't remain active through the winter have entered hibernation or dormancy. The natural world is bracing for winter.

"Signage"

Saturday, Dec. 5; 10:00-11:30 (Adults only); 1:00-2:30 (Families)
Wednesday, Dec. 9; 1:00-2:30 (Homeschoolers ages 8-12)

Many creatures have disappeared from sight. Those that remain include "feeder birds," those whose interactions present an opportunity to assess hierarchy within a flock as well as between species. While there are fewer mammals around, the signs of those that remain active are more evident, and change daily. As soon as the first snow falls, animal signs—be they tracks, scat, scent posting, feeding holes, or markings of any kind—offer the observer an intimate look at animal activity. Plants, for the most part, are dormant, with next year's growth safely sealed within protective buds, awaiting lengthening days.

Polliwogs Pre-K Programs (Ages 3-5)

Wednesdays, October 7-November 4 & Nov. 18; 10:30-12:00
$7 ($5 Members)/adult-child pair, +$3/additional child

A group for the littlest explorers amongst us! Bring along your favorite grown-up and a snack and join us to explore the forests and fields around Prescott Farm. Each week we will take a walk and maybe read a story or play a game on that week's theme—activities perfect for introducing little ones to the joys of the natural world. For more information and weekly themes, please visit our website.

Celebrating the Seasons Series

$10 ($8 Members) per session

The natural world is constantly changing. If you take the time to look, each month brings new and exciting phenomena to learn from and delight in. Using author Mary Holland's book Naturally Curious as a month-by-month guide to the wonders unfolding in the fields, forests and wetlands of New England, each month participants will go on a leisurely hike with one of Prescott Farm's naturalists, with the goal of cultivating their observation skills and deepening each person's relationship with the natural world. Note: Program titles and descriptions are used with permission from Mary Holland. This series will be continued monthly in 2016.

"Adaptation"

Saturday, October 10; 10:11:30 (Adults only); 1:00-2:30 (Families)
Wednesday, Oct. 14; 1:00-2:30 (Homeschoolers ages 8-12)

The summer has come to an end and hints of the coming winter remind us of changes brewing. For many plants and animals, these changes are life-threatening. They include the disappearance of the food that many relied on over the past six months; the cooling of the air that determines the body temperature of cold-blooded animals; and strong, cold winds that can quickly desiccate plants. This time of year provides many examples of ways in which both plants and animals have adapted to New England's changing seasons.

"Quiescence"

Saturday, Nov. 7; 10:00-11:30 (Adults only); 1:00-2:30 (Families)
Wednesday, Nov. 4; 1:00-2:30 (Homeschoolers ages 8-12)

New England temperatures can fluctuate greatly in November. Within a given state, climatic conditions can be wildly erratic. First snows may fall in northern New England, yet balmy days are not unheard of. Throughout the Northeast most deciduous trees have lost their leaves and many animals have disappeared from sight. Reptiles and amphibians that didn't enter hibernation last month do so in November. Insect sightings become more and more scarce.

Other Events & Walks

Moonlit Campfire

Friday, October 30, 2015; 6:00-8:00 -- All ages welcome
$6 ($5 Members)

Is there any better way to spend a fall evening than gathered around a campfire? Come meet new friends and celebrate the change in season under the full moon. We will serve local hot apple cider and pizza samples from our cob oven.

Note: We will be offering Moonlit Walks monthly continuing in 2016—stay tuned!

Solstice Walk

Tuesday, December 22; 5:00-6:00 -- All ages welcome
$10 ($8 Members)

Join us for a walk to celebrate the Winter Solstice! With just 9 hours of daylight today, we are experiencing the shortest day before the amount of light starts its slow increase again. During the walk our educator will discuss why the length of day changes throughout the year and share solstice traditions from around the world.

Homeschool/Youth Programs

In addition to the Celebrating the Seasons programs for homeschoolers listed above, homeschool groups, church groups, other youth groups (and schools, of course!) are welcome to register as a group for any of the programs in our School Programs booklet on our website (www.prescottfarm.org/education/for-schools). Programs are not limited to those listed in the booklet—we can work with you to design a program that meets your group's specific needs and interests. Please call us at the number below with any questions and to book your program.

Reservations are required—Call 366-5695 to save your spot!

LISA CURRY MAIR

The Floorcloth and Its History

Lisa Curry Mair of Canvasworks Floorcloths in Weathersfield, Vermont will discuss the history of this wonderful craft of painted rugs. Lisa has over 20 years of experience researching, designing and creating floorcloths for homes and museums throughout North America and beyond. Her talk will incorporate the use of a slide show containing images of floorcloth remnants, historical evidence of their use and her reproduction work. She will also discuss the benefits of their use in today's home and how they are made.

NH HUMANE SOCIETY
Laconia • New Hampshire

Pet of the Week: Akiva

Making adjustments in one's life that accommodates a dog takes some pre-planning. Such was the fate of Akiva, a sweet black and white terrier/hound mix who came to New Hampshire Humane Society over the summer because the owners were moving. They did actually re-claim her, only to bring her back to us a month later... life with a dog just wasn't to be. Akiva got lost in the shuffle.

She has a cool name that means, ironically, shelter. Try to put yourself in her paws, backwards and forwards to the shelter, with no settling in between. NHHS is the right place for her to be right now. We have started her training program; she is incredibly food motivated and eager to learn.

A little shy of new people and new surroundings (who can blame her), she has bonded with our canine staff and volunteers. Looking into her mournful brown eyes will tell you much about her trials and tribulations, but still now she hopes for the calm order of a forever home. She may find cats a bit of a temptation, but in a dog savvy home with plenty of exercise she will blossom for sure.

Adopt a dog in October and receive a free pumpkin and Cider Bellies donuts from Moulton Farms!

Sculptors
Association

T. Sammie Wakefield, a juried member of the New England Sculptors Association, will share several pieces of her sculpture during a presentation at Taylor Community's Woodside Building, Monday, October 26 at 6:30 p.m.

The event is free and open to the public. Please call 524-5600 to RSVP.

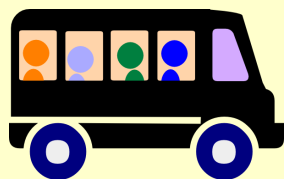

Working primarily in hardwood, Sammie uses the grain and figure as important aspects of the design.

She does figurative work as well as abstract forms and enjoys putting wood and found stones together.
