230th Anniversary of the Constitutional Convention September 21, 2017

The Constitution of the United States was the product of lengthy and serious deliberations in the summer of 1787 by a remarkable group of Americans who were intent on addressing the defects of the confederal system that was established by the Articles of Confederation in 1781. Dr. David Marion will explain what the debates that transpired during that time reveal about the nature of the American constitutional system. He also will explain how an examination of what transpired at the constitutional convention can pay real dividends today as we labor to preserve the constitutional system crafted by George Washington, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton and others.

Dr. Marion is Elliott Professor Emeritus of Government and Director of the James Madison Public Service Program at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia. He has been invited to speak at the U.S. Supreme Court, the National Archives, Mount Vernon (George Washington's plantation home) and Montpelier (James Madison's plantation home), among other places in the US, Canada and Europe. The author of over 50 publications, he received a national award for his book on the late Supreme Court Justice William Brennan and has been featured in programs on PBS and National Public Radio.

Vagabond Quakers
7:00 pm
September 18, 2017
Laconia Rotary Hall

Olga Morrill will feature a presentation entitled Vagabond Quakers at 7 p.m. Monday, September 18, in Rotary Hall on the Lower Level of the Laconia Public Library, under the auspices of the Laconia Historical and Museum Society.

Before 1840, the New Hampshire region we know as Belknap County was a part of Strafford County. The County seat of Dover and points west toward the Lakes Region were often hiding places for those who lived just outside of ridged Puritan doctrine. Before the American Revolution, these 17th and 18th century stories of those seeking religious freedom and independence abound. During these early years of European settlement, the Province of New Hampshire frequently shared the law, governors, and overall enforcement with the Massachusetts Bay Colony. The Salem Witch Trials of the 1690's was part of a cruel sensibility that cast a wide net of suspicion and deceit among Indians and settlers alike.

Olga Morrill brings an extensive background in these studies to this event. She recently completed 24 years as Program Coordinator and Librarian with the Conway Public Library. An accomplished Storyteller, Olga's repertoire includes music, a wealth of historic New Hampshire oversight, the Drama Studio, as well as the NH Writers Project. Ms. Morrill is a fixture in statewide story forums and students of all ages will enjoy her grasp of subject and substance.

Learn of the remarkable brutality of the Puritan authorities in the Massachusetts Bay Colony against the Society of Friends through fascinating true stories from the 17th and 18th centuries.

The program is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. For further information, contact LHMS at 527-1278, lhmslpl@metrocast.net or go to www.laconiahistory.org

The Best Family Photos and Videos Contest and Families Matter Concert Presented by We Care of Temple B'nai Israel of Laconia

Family is the cornerstone of community and the guardian of the next generation. Families Matter is a fundraiser which supports families through two exciting events - a photo and video contest and an A Cappella concert on October 21st. The Best Family Photos and Videos Contest is an opportunity to share special moments captured on film and upload a photo or video of those special moments in your family that makes it unique. Then vote for the submissions you like best, your own or others. Share the funny, awkward or heartwarming memories that anyone can relate to on the Families Matter photo contest website <http://families-matter.causevox.com>.

Let your friends and family know you're raising money for a great cause! Each vote is as little as a $1.00 contribution. All net proceeds go to Belknap House and Genesis Behavioral Health. The submission receiving the most votes will win a gift certificate from Achber Studio in Laconia for a standard portrait session which includes a photo session, a mini wall portrait (11x14 in) and two 5X7 gift portraits ($349.00 value). Second and third place submissions will receive two tickets for the We Care spring 2018 benefit concert. The contest begins on October 15th and will continue until October 20th. Learn how you can take steps to capture these stories before they're lost, as Dan Darling, owner of Heart-string Media, presents a program entitled "Why Family Stories Matter." The free event is Monday, Sept. 25 at 6:30 p.m. in Taylor Community's Woodside Building and is open to the public.

Mr. Darling has many years of experience telling stories professionally through theater and video production. Through his Memoir Mill personal history service, he assists individuals, families, organizations and communities in preserving their valuable histories, memories and life stories.
