ADULT PROGRAMS

IN THE EVIL DAY: INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS, TOWN GOVERNMENT, AND THE CRIME THAT STUNNED THE NATION

Thursday, January 18
6:30pm
Laconia Rotary Hall

On August 19, 1997, in little Colebrook, New Hampshire, a 62 year-old carpenter named Carl Drega, a man with long-simmering property rights grievances, murdered state troopers Scott Phillips and Les Lord at a traffic stop in a supermarket parking lot. Then Drega stole Phillips's cruiser and drove downtown to settle some old scores. By the end of the day three more were dead, Drega among them, and four wounded. Occurring on the eve of America's current plague of gun violence, this tragic event made headlines all over the world and shocked New Hampshire out of a previous innocence.

Touching on facets of North Country history, local governance, law enforcement, gun violence, and the human spirit, writer Richard Adams Carey describes a community that was never a passive victim but rather a brave and resilient survivor.

This program is sponsored by the NH Humanities and the Laconia Public Library. The snow date for this program is Thursday, January 25 at 6:30pm.

LETTING GO: STRESS-FREE DOWNSIZING

Domenica Ruta grew up in Danvers, Massachusetts, in a ramshackle, rundown, trash-filled house with her mother, a drug dealer and user who raised Domenica on a steady diet of Oxycontin. Growing up, Domenica knew she didn't fit in—she was far smarter and worse dressed than everyone else she knew, and she clearly had the most flamboyant mother of anyone in town—but she found solace in writing and reading. As she grew older, though, and as her mother's behavior grew increasingly outrageous and her home life increasingly untenable, Domenica fled Danvers only to become ensnared by the demons of addiction.
