Spring Book Discussion Series: Forgotten New Hampshire Women

In this series, we will explore the lives of four dynamic women with ties to New Hampshire. Whether faded into obscurity or known only for infamous acts, the subjects of these titles led dramatic and noteworthy lives.

"Black Ice" by Lorene Cary

Tuesday, February 4
7pm
Laconia Rotary Hall

In 1972 Lorene Cary, a bright, ambitious black teenager from Philadelphia, was transplanted into the formerly all-white, all-male environs of the elite St. Paul's School in New Hampshire, where she became a scholarship student in a "boot camp" for future American leaders.

Discussion led by Frumie Selchen.

"Probably the most beautifully written and the most moving African-American autobiographical narrative since Maya Angelou's I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings."
—ARNOLD RAMPERSAD

Russian Daily Life and Culture

Thursday, February 6

6:30pm

Laconia Rotary Hall

Local artist and historian, Marina Forbes, will discuss contemporary life in her native Russia. The fall of Soviet Communism in the early 1990s catapulted Russia into a new social order. The emergence of the "new rich," the evolving role of women, the revival of the Orthodox Church, the changing effects of Russian humor, family life, entertainment, and the new emphasis on consumerism will be discussed. This program is sponsored by the NH Humanities.

Snow Date for this program is
Thursday, February 13 at 6:30pm.
